

Vigilantes May Resume Duties After Murder

BRAMPTON, Ont., Jan. 15.—(CP)—With police at an admitted loss to provide a motive for the slaying of Mrs. Mary Pilla, a Toronto resident last night of forming vigilante committees to protect their womenfolk from a "maniac force" in the town and council scheduled a meeting to discuss posing a reward.

LATER, AT THIS meeting, council decided to post a $3,000 reward for information leading to arrest and conviction of the slayer.

The wanton brutality of the attack on the 35-year-old mother of two children, committed by a killer who apparently came unseen to the door and left without taking anything from the home, shocked citizens of this town of about 6,000 some 25 miles northwest of Toronto, known in its friendliness as the "flower city."

"Our women are afraid to stay in their homes alone," Mayor J. Beck said in announcing the reward, which was posted in a public place.

As housewives carried out their daily errands, they were scrutinized by all callers before opening locked doors, men talked of vigilante committees to protect their homes.

"WE HAD A VOLUNTEER constabulary during the war and it looks as if we'll have to recall the men to duty," said Deputy Reeve I. W. Kelman.

Police, with little to go on, found one lead shattered when a man who called at the Pilla home Friday night telephoned to identify himself. He said officers had been called to a girl minding their two children while the Pilla woman was out on a shopping trip.

There was no sign of a struggle in the living room where the man was slain. The Pilla woman was found with a bloodstained head.

After answering the door in her night attire, police said, the man was slain.

Mrs. Fay Hancock Miller, 24, whose husband, Capt. Archie H. Miller, is said to have been killed in action during the war, was found in the living room.

He will be introduced there by Missouri's favorite son, President Truman, and is expected to travel with the President to Washington to inaugurate the new year.

The CANADIAN veterans had a rough but swift trip from South America where they embarked Jan. 8.

A bitter wind with a threat of snow swept across the decks of the 8,000-ton liner as she was escorted by tug and harbor police to the inner harbor, past the Statue of Liberty to lower Manhattan.

Despite their disappointment the soldiers, sailors and airmen were obviously delighted at the first contact with North America and the new world within a few hours they were in the city.

MR. CHURCHILL helped enter the troops on board yesterday dressed them in route with a message of hope and confidence in the future.

The sprinkling of civilian passengers on the ship was a welcome sight and selected groups of veteran personnel were allowed on the pier.

The returning units included the 1st of the 3rd Canadian Army Division which went into action as a complete unit in the offensive action in the Rhine in May, 1945, and fought the first weeks of the war in Western Holland between Nijmegen and Arnhem.

AN OFFICER of this division, Maj. Jack Mahony of New Westminster, B.C., was the first to cross the Rhine in Italy for refusing to yield a Meisler bridgehead after being surrounded by German forces.

Major Gen. Harry W. Foster of Halifax, Pictou, Ont., former commander of the 1st Division and president of the military court recently tried and sentenced 18 Maj. Gen. Kurt Meyer on the charge that he had committed the crime of the execution of a prisoner of war.

Also on board was Lt. Col. M. W. Macdonald of St. John's, Nfld., who was awarded the Victoria Cross in Italy for refusing to yield a Meisler bridgehead after being surrounded by German forces.

LAST NIGHT'S arrival of 10,000 army personnel, 1,400 R.C.M.P. members and 25 members of the Royal Canadian Navy brought to more than 250,000 the number of Canadian servicemen repatriated from the European theatre of war.

On Queen Elizabeth

Sacrifice Said Great Lesson From Warfare

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—(CP)—Soldiers here learned to be ready to sacrifice their lives, if necessary, for the good of the common cause, and the coming generation will be taught the same thing, Maj. Gen. Brock Chisholm, deputy minister of health and noted psychiatrist, said last night.

ADDRESSING the annual meeting of the Ottawa branch of the Canadian Legion, Chisholm said that the last generation was brought up on the "dreadful slogan" of safety first.

"If that slogan had been right, we would not have been in this war at all," he said. "We would have been safer off."

MANY THINGS were more important than personal safety, and when war came, persons should not be worried about the integrity of their own person.

While people in other countries were brought up on the safety first slogan, people in other countries were brought up to live dangerously and to take chances.

He was not suggesting that "we should bring up a generation of killers."

HE SAID THE CHILDREN of this generation should be brought up prepared to sacrifice their lives if necessary for the good of the common cause.

Chisholm said he had learned how to sacrifice and "they should teach the youth of the people, and particularly the children."

One of the best things to do was to be a citizen, Chisholm said, and he was not decrying veterans' organizations as a co-servicemen did not lean on them. The Canadian Legion and other such organizations were great in that they provided places and opportunities for veterans to get emotional relief.

front should be presented in other countries. The majority of Englishmen in the front most put unconsciously to behave this way.

A LAMENTABLE exception to this was, however, provided by the recent expedition to Jugoslavia of a dozen members of the House of Commons. Although ten out of twelve were members of the labor party, they did not act as co-servicemen, their own Foreign Secretary Bill Staveley, they went, making plain that they thought he was making a recreational party. They showed similar distrust and indifference toward the British representative, they encountered in Belgrade, Zagreb, Ljubljana and Trieste.

In Belgrade they were received by British Ambassador Sir John Dill, and they were taken to the Hotel Metropole. They asked him to give them his view on Jugoslavia, when they found he took a somewhat less rosy view than they did of local conditions.

Mr. Dill, interrupted the Ambassador, saying, "I think it ought to tell you that for each of the twelve members of the labor party, there were five members of the Conservative party."

When they discovered that 20 or 30 of the British troops in Belgrade were providing champagne, the Embassy were critical of certain features of the Communique regime.

Pearl Harbor Probe Admiral Claims Information On Japs' Plans Not Given

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel today contested Washington naval officials' denial his information he said might have made Pearl Harbor an ambush for the Japanese.

IN A 25,000-WORD statement submitted to the senate-house committee investigating the Dec. 7, 1941, Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, the retired commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet called the "war warning" message sent to him by Admiral Harold R. Stark.

Preparing Plans Two CNR Vessels

VICTORIA, Jan. 15.—(CP)—A naval architect in Vancouver is at work designing two new ships for operation by the Canadian National Railways on this coast, Transport Minister Chevrier said here yesterday.

He announced also that radar would be installed on the CNR coastwise vessel Prince Rupert, now on the Vancouver-Alaska run.

Biggest Walkout Since Before War 200,000 U. S. Electrical Workers Strike

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—(AP)—A strike of 200,000 electrical workers started today and the ranks of the idle because of labor disputes in the United States began climbing toward the 600,000 mark—the highest in more than a year.

THE STRIKE CALLED against the General Electric, Westinghouse and General Motors in 18 states in a walkout was the largest single work stoppage since before the outbreak of war in the Pacific.

Previously called for a work stoppage against an industry was that against General Motors involving 175,000 CIO United Auto Workers who struck last Nov. 21 in support of demands for a 30 per cent wage increase.

Effects of the electrical workers' walkout, which involved a major part of United States production of home and industrial electrical appliances, were not immediately determined. The strike came on after the date scheduled for a work stoppage by 800,000 auto workers, which has been delayed one week. Another major walkout, by some 330,000 packinghouse workers, is set for tonight tonight.

THE WALKOUT by the electrical workers, who had demanded wage increases of $2 a day, was announced by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in New York City. Last minute efforts by federal conciliators to avert the strike were unsuccessful.

As the electrical workers got underway government conciliators, headed by Edgar L. Warren, chief of the third time service, made last-minute efforts in Chicago to avert the threatened packinghouse strike.

REPORTS FROM Washington said that the government officials had offered additional price relief as a basis for ending the controversy. The CIO union's original demand for a 25-cent-an-hour wage hike, but it reduced that to 17½ cents.

It will be a sufficient concession to the union, the CIO United Auto Workers Union prepared to resume negotiations with the Ford Motor Company. The union is ready to accept the 17½-cent wage increase recommended by a government fact-finding board as a means of breaking the wage deadlock.

Operations in the steel industry, against which a strike of 800,000 was delayed until midnight Sunday, moved toward normal. Although nearly 20,000 steelworkers were idle and one new walkout was reported.

Toronto Seeks Churchill Visit

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—(CP)—Mayor Robert Lauder today told reporters last night that a visit to Toronto by Winston Churchill, famed British wartime Prime Minister, is not an impossibility.

The burly Toronto chief magistrate came to New York yesterday to extend an official invitation to Mr. Churchill to visit Toronto, upon the Conservative party leader's arrival last night aboard the Queen Elizabeth for a holiday and rest.

Mr. SAUNDERS was introduced to Mr. Churchill after a brief conference and he said afterwards that the 71-year-old statesman had told him regarding the invitation that he did not know just what his plans will be, but "I'll certainly think it over."

Mr. Churchill told him, however, "My, that would be wonderful, only we can arrange it."

Mr. SAUNDERS said he would spend the next six weeks in Florida.

Triste should be called to Jugoslavia. This without even inquiring if the British had any intention of behaving British troops.

I recently covered a large part of the same route as was travelled by the British Parliamentarians, and I talked to more than twenty British officers and officials who had had the privilege of meeting this strange delegation. Every single one of them told me that, wherever they gave the members of Parliament any information or offered any opinion which in any way con- flicted with what the delegation had been told by the Jugoslavs, the members of Parliament insisted on being told by the Jugoslavs and on insisting almost as a matter of course, that they were being told by their fellow countrymen.

Pearl Harbor Probe

Admiral Claims Information On Japs' Plans Not Given

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel today contested Washington naval officials' denial his information he said might have made Pearl Harbor an ambush for the Japanese.

IN A 25,000-WORD statement submitted to the senate-house committee investigating the Dec. 7, 1941, Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, the retired commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet called the "war warning" message sent to him by Admiral Harold R. Stark.

Stark, who was in command of the Pacific Fleet at the time of the attack, said he had received the message at 10:30 a. m. on Dec. 7, 1941.

Bulletin's PLAYBOY by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

QUEBEC rather early to be thinking about hockey playoffs, but in any event clubs will not be able to complain later that Doug Grimston didn't give them sufficient warning. Now that the inter-provincial status of the senior and junior has been announced.

Western Canada Senior League winds up its schedule on March 10 and has until March 20 to clear the decks of its own semi-final and final series. But the playoffs for Alberta juniors don't appear so smooth with British Columbia definitely in, as seems to be the case.

THE ALBERTA-B.C. series will commence in B.C. on March 2, and which means in Trail, New Westminster, Vancouver or Nanaimo. If three games were required to settle the issue, the Alberta side would arrive home on the very morning of, at best, the day before the day set for the opener of the best-of-seven affair with the Saskatchewan team.

Edmonton's junior loop closes Feb. 12, according to the present schedule and the semi-final and final night could be games. Another three for the Alberta final within a maximum period of 16 days. At this stage it looks as if a revision somewhere along the line would be advisable.

EDMONTON FLYERS left last night for Saskatoon, where they play today and then go on to Regina for a game Wednesday. Stan Stanley, out of circulation for a few days with a ligament injury, went with the team and counts on being in the lineup for both road sessions.

Don still doesn't know whether he will be playing after Feb. 12. His original plan called for entering Harvard for post-graduate study.

Green Urges All Champs To Defend Titles by June

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The National Boxing Association last night issued its quarterly ratings and put pressure on all the top fighters to prove their right to the championship rating.

Abe J. Green, NBA president, seeking to cut a pattern of sports in the expected post-war boom, called on "all champions" to sign by April 1 for a series of matches to be held by June 1.

The Joe Louis-Billy Conn heavyweight title bout, which was expected since they have signed for a fight in June, was the first of some warm-ups.

Archie Moore, St. Louis; Louis Heavy; Rocky Graziano, New York; middleweight, and Beau Jack, Georgia, were named as the high contenders possible in the ratings.

Montreal's Johnny Greco was given "honorable mention" after outstanding losses to Tony Zale, lightweight division and Danny Webb, also mentioned, was similarly mentioned in the featherweight class.

With leading fighters returning from the armed forces, a wholesale shakeup in the ratings is forecast by the time the quarterly ratings come out.

The current ratings for bouts up to Jan. 2:

Heavyweight—Champion, Joe Louis; contender, Archie Moore; Bill Conn, Pittsburgh; top outstanding boxer, Tony Zale; contender, Jimmy Bravito, Cuba.

Lightweight—Champion, Joe Louis; contender, Archie Moore; Bill Conn, Pittsburgh; top outstanding boxer, Tony Zale; contender, Jimmy Bravito, Cuba.

Cap't. HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A. Leads Chorus For Sessions Of Legislature

ONE of the most contentious questions discussed by the special parliamentary committee on veterans' affairs during the past session of the House of Commons was whether a serviceman discharged for misconduct should receive the gratuity, credits and other benefits provided to assist ex-servicemen to rehabilitate themselves.

THE COMMITTEE is made up entirely of ex-servicemen, of both this war and the last, who are at the present time members of the House of Commons. Most of them agreed that if a man were discharged because of some serious civil offense, such as, shall we say, robbery with violence, or of a serious military offense such as treason, then the state had no further responsibility towards him. On the other hand, there were some of the committee who held that such a man would probably need more help than other servicemen if he were to become a useful citizen, and therefore should receive every benefit that others received.

However they were practically unanimous in their belief that many men, who were discharged for purely service offenses, such as low flying in the air force, who had given valuable service to the country and who deserved help in becoming re-established, who should get the benefit.

THIS ARGUMENT LED to rather lengthy discussions as to be basic reasons for granting gratuity, credits and other benefits. There were many material factors of the country's gratitude for faithful and valuable service in the past. Continued on Page Eighteen

Fire Dept. Plans Expansion in July

The three-platoon system in the city fire department will be put into effect from July 1, city commissioners told city council Monday night in answer to a question by Ald. Sidney Parsons.

Reporting the starting date of the three-shift system, the commissioners said that inaugurating the system was governed by the plebiscite and by law which called for starting within 12 months after the cessation of hostilities between Canada and Germany and Canada and Japan.

HOSTILITIES with Japan ceased on August 15, 1945, the plebiscite reported, and intimated that provision would be made in the 1946 budget for the three-shift system from July 1.

Save Gas, Save Trouble . . .

Most so-called "accidents" are the direct result of too much speed at the wrong time. Operating a car at too fast a speed is certainly a sure way to trouble. Drive with caution—save gas.

ASK Broadcast Sky Heroes Rejoicing Air Force For Sessions Of Legislature

Suggestion that it would be "very good policy" for the Alberta government to broadcast the sessions of the Legislative Assembly, making use of the publicly-owned telephone system's radio station (CJLA) was amongst matters laid before Premier Ernest Manning and his cabinet Tuesday by a delegation of the Alberta Federation of Labor.

THE DELEGATION consisted of the executive of the federation along with representatives of affiliated unions who laid before the government matters which arose at the November convention in Calgary. Executive members were D. B. Macdonald, president; J. W. Burrows, Calgary; E. F. Sinclair, Lethbridge; and E. C. Macleod, Edmonton.

Further reduction of weekly working hours to 40 a week, limiting the civil service, was also suggested having regard to the number of men returning from armed forces and the larger output of the province. The delegation also suggested that the government should consider the possibility of purchasing power for the people to avail themselves of this greater output. But the delegation was brief enough to point out that the government's action in working hours was accompanied by a reduction in the take-home pay.

CONDITIONS ARISING in the civil service from the transfer of the provincial to the Dominion civil service and vice-versa were also pointed out. The delegation suggested that the government should consider the possibility of purchasing power for the people to avail themselves of this greater output. But the delegation was brief enough to point out that the government's action in working hours was accompanied by a reduction in the take-home pay.

Residents are indignant over articles appearing in west coast magazines written by Senator Magnuson of Washington State, and Governor Gruening of Alaska, which they consider detrimental to the highway.

The delegates agree another road west of the Rockies to connect with the Alaska highway is necessary but in advocating this connection they said the promoters should give thought to keeping open the southern end of the road.

High Level Route for Buses Going Before Council Again

Whether trolley buses will be routed over the High Level bridge to complete the South Side loop in the trolley bus conversion plan, or an alternative route taken will be discussed in city council at the next regular meeting.

Reunited

Ald. C. E. GRIFFIN, K.C., Monday night gave notice of motion that city council again take under consideration the question of routing trolley buses over the high level bridge.

Harry Ainlay said he was opposed to the routing of the buses over the bridge, and Ald. A. Bisset, K.C., said he would welcome an opportunity of discussing this question. He said that the matter was before council for many months, but that he was absent from the city when the matter was finally disposed of.

CITY COMMISSIONER R. J. GIBB pointed out that materials for the conversion had been ordered, and that the council's authorization of the routing of trolley buses over the bridge that 22 trolley coaches had been ordered.

Ald. Fred J. Mitchell gave notice of motion that George C. Docherty, acting city clerk, be appointed clerk. This matter will be dealt with at a regular meeting of the city council.

The Road Ahead

of emergency, or were they for the purpose of assisting a man to become re-established in civilian life? If they were intended merely as a token of gratitude for faithful service, they would be of little value. If they were intended as a reward for service, they would be of great value. In the first place it was pointed out that the size of the gratuity and credit which a man receives is directly dependent upon his length of service and where he served. For example, the basic gratuity is given on the basis of $2.50 for every day of service served with an additional 50c per day for every day of service served. Obviously this was intended as a reward for service.

ON THE OTHER HAND, in the case of the Veterans' Land Act, for example, or in the various benefits, the assistance provided a man had had enough service to indicate that re-establishment assistance was necessary. In such a case a man received depended on his service without particular regard to service. From this it is clear that the grants and benefits are intended to serve both as rewards and as assistance.

Accordingly a special board has been authorized to examine the record of every man discharged on a discharge certificate to decide whether or not he should get his gratuity and benefits. This board is empowered to make any investigations they wish, to call any witnesses, and to pass down a final decision. The intention is that they will be especially generous and will withhold gratuity and benefits only in cases of exceptionally serious misconduct. Nothing can be fairer than this.

ACTUALLY THIS BOARD has been functioning for some time and up until the present their power have been made independent. They know what is expected of them. Up until the middle of October they had examined more than 2,000 records and had granted benefits to nearly 300 of them, disallowed nearly 1,000 and had not arrived at a decision on the rest. Now they have the decision of the committee to guide them.

The chairman of the board, Brigadier C. B. Togo, began his military service in the last war as a subaltern at the age of 19, and rose to a major commanding an infantry battalion. He was wounded three times, mentioned in dispatches several times, won the Distinguished Service Order, the Military Cross and the Bar to the Military Cross.

IN THIS WAR HE TOOK the "Fifth Canadian Infantry" brigade overseas and became a Commander in the Order of the British Empire. Not only is he a gallant soldier, but a very understanding man. He can be counted on to see that veterans whose rights are questionable get a square deal.
